I would like to extend an invitation to your firm to become an Associate Member of the National Association of Licensing and Compliance Professionals (NALCP), NALCP is a newly formed non-profit organization comprised of in-house hospitality licensing and compliance professionals, like myself, who specialize in retail liquor licensing and regulation.

The mission of the NALCP is to optimize the group's collective skills, experience, and voice consequent to all matters regarding hospitality licensing with particular focus on alcohol beverage regulations and provide on-going professional support and development among its members. NALCP works to establish cooperative relationships among its members and related licensing authorities pertaining to licensing, fostering strong and productive lines of communication and creating advocacy efforts to ensure consistent and coherent processes and mutual understanding between its Members and the government authorities.

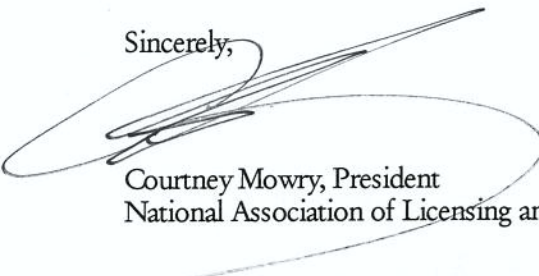

NALCP offers Membership to in-house licensing professionals as well as Associate Membership and sponsorship opportunities to legal professionals, consultants, and service providers. Current Members represent some of the nation's leading restaurants including Red Robin, Cheesecake Factory, P.F.
